

Avast's "Breachguard" at Techfluence
September 19, 2020
By George Harding

Breachguard: This product searches the Internet: It detects and notifies users of data breaches affecting their credentials, assists in the removal of personal information from unwanted third-party databases, and analyzes online accounts for privacy vulnerabilities. The user is provided with information to request the removal of their data through an automated process.

The price is $20 for the first year.
