This product is a revolutionary air purifier that is small yet surprisingly effective.

First of all, the "Cube" describes its shape. It is 3 inches on a side and comes with a cable, a small plastic deflector, and a car cupholder attachment.

The size makes it easy to store in a pocket or purse and can be operated just about anywhere. It operates through the cable, which plugs into any USB port.

It's handy to use at your office space, bedroom, car, and more.

There is a button on the case that turns on the fan. The surrounding air is inducted into its photocatalyst purification technology, which decomposes and neutralizes pollutants, odors, and unpleasant smells.

The only maintenance required is to rinse and wash the metal mesh every two weeks, a simple job.

The plastic deflector can be used to intensify and direct the purified air in whatever direction you desire.

The cup holder attachment makes it easy to use the device in your car.

This is a compact and efficient way to get purified air wherever you are.
